ABSTRACT

Women, God's most beautiful creature has often led to paradoxical ends in society. Most frequently associated with sexology, criminology, social anthropology, religion, science and culture; women have hidden philosophy and complicated minds. Time and again laws, legislations, policies and implementation made by various agencies and NGOs have worked to highlight women related problems like crime, murder, rape, prostitution, dowry and bride burning. But, all these virtually failed to find out permanent solution. The emergence of women studies in large number of Indian and western universities did help significantly to high light women resulted problems through conferences, workshops contact programmes, interdisciplinary research and development. But the deep rooted problems in India society in forms of superstition, orthodox practices and male domination remain a challenging task for women now and then.

INTRODUCTION:

Woman is a wonderful gift to man and the most beautiful creature of God. But she is often symbolized and personified as confused, kitchen confiner, second mistake of God, sex symbol, beauty queen, calm and cruel, hide their age, and as the planet is lonely without women. For variety of reasons, woman has scholarship ability, good sister, mother, wife and true Laxami. Woman also refers and associated to name, home, family, building confidence, pregnant for love of husband, bears undesirable pain, delivery of kids and everything. She does cooking, cleaning, taking care of parents, bringing up children, earning, advising, ensuring, relaxing, enjoyment, glamour, maintaining family, and something that costs of her own health, hobbies and beauty and always favour true things. She is priceless, weak, sweet, wonderful mother,
